

Akira creator Katsuhiro Otomo has won the Angoulême International Comics Festival's Grand Prix, marking the first time a Japanese artist has received the event's top honor. Just five non-Europeans have earned the award. Jeremiah artist Hermann and Watchmen writer Alan Moore were also finalists for the award, presented annually in recognition of lifetime achievement to [...]

Read more: <http://robot6.comicbookresources.com/2015/01/akira-creator-katsuhiro-otomo-wins-angouleme-grand-prix/>