

A week that began with Yahoo's $1.1 billion deal for Tumblr got even stranger this morning with Amazon Publishing's announcement of Kindle Worlds, billed as the first commercial publishing platform for fan fiction. In short, fanfic writers can now earn royalties for certain corporate-sanctioned stories. For the launch, Amazon Publishing has secured licenses from Alloy [...]

Read more: <http://robot6.comicbookresources.com/2013/05/amazon-and-warner-bros-go-into-fan-fiction-business/>