

Maybe it was the heat (and the humidity). Maybe people decided to go out of town instead of going to the comics store. Maybe there just wasn't anything good to buy. Whatever the reason, both comics and graphic novels sales "plummeted," in the words of usually staid retailer site ICv2, last month. Comics sales were [...]

Read more: <http://robot6.comicbookresources.com/2010/09/augustmageddon-comics-sales-drop-sharply/>