

Transforming San Francisco into Gotham on Nov. 15 to help fulfill a 5-year-old leukemia patient's wish to be Batman cost the city $105,000 — but none of that will come from the pockets of taxpayers. The celebration, which saw Miles “Batkid” Scott accompany Batman as they apprehended the Penguin and the Riddler, drew crowds estimated [...]

Read more: <http://robot6.comicbookresources.com/2013/11/batkid-event-cost-san-francisco-but-not-taxpayers-105000/>