

After 63 years, military cutbacks have finally hit Camp Swampy. Stars and Stripes, the newspaper serving the U.S. military community, announced this week it has dropped Mort Walker's Beetle Bailey from its daily print edition as the average number of pages shrinks from 40 to 32 due to a number of financial factors that include [...]

Read more: <http://robot6.comicbookresources.com/2013/10/beetle-bailey-falls-victim-to-military-budget-cuts/>