

The attorney for retailer Michael George, who awaits another trial in the 1990 killing of his first wife, has requested an evidentiary hearing to determine whether the prosecution's key witness gave an interview to a police detective after the murder, as reported in a recently released book. George, 50, was found guilty in March 2008 [...]

Read more: <http://robot6.comicbookresources.com/2010/11/book-raises-concerns-about-key-witness-in-michael-george-trial/>