

A federal judge last week rejected a bid by HarperCollins to dismiss claims by comics creator Jazan Wild that the title of Melissa Marr's new fantasy novel Carnival of Souls infringes on his trademark. Law360 reports that in denying the motion, U.S. District Judge Josephine Staton Tucker disagreed with the publisher's assertion that the trademark [...]

Read more: <http://robot6.comicbookresources.com/2012/12/carnival-of-souls-lawsuit-can-continue-against-harpercollins/>