

The 93-minute melee for badges was only the first hurdle on the road to Comic-Con International. The next trial is this morning at 9 PT, when the mad dash begins for discounted hotel rooms in San Diego. Obviously, attendees don't have to go through this process to find accommodations, but they're likely to end up [...]

Read more: <http://robot6.comicbookresources.com/2013/02/comic-con-hotel-free-for-all-begins-in-two-hours/>