

Crime | The burglars who broke into Flea Market Comics in Mobile, Alabama, left the cash register alone but stole $10,000 worth of comics, according to owner Stephen Barrington. The thieves cut three locks off Barrington's storage units and replaced them with a combination lock, presumably so they could come back and get more. "It [...]"

Read more: <http://robot6.comicbookresources.com/2013/01/comics-a-m-burglars-make-off-with-10000-comics-hoard/>