

Conventions | Phoenix Comicon, which in 2013 drew a record 55,000 people, has placed a limit on attendance for the June 5-8 show, raising the possibility that the convention could sell out for the first time. However, convention director Matt Solberg said organizers have been working with the fire marshal to increase capacity at the Phoenix [...]

Read more: <http://robot6.comicbookresources.com/2014/05/comics-a-m-phoenix-comicon-to-cap-attendance-for-first-time/>