

Webcomics | Shaenon Garrity looks at the problem of webcomics going viral without any attribution to the artist or link back to the original site, often because that attribution has been stripped from the image itself. She cites the case of Rachel Dukes, whose “Life With/Out a Cat” comic racked up half a million views [...]

Read more: <http://robot6.comicbookresources.com/2013/12/comics-a-m-webcomics-and-proper-credit-in-the-viral-age/>