

Comics | Vincent Zurzolo of Metropolis Collectibles explains why he and his partner Stephen Fishler were willing to pay a record $3.2 million last month for a pristine copy of Action Comics #1: "We feel very confidently this was a good price and that we will be able to sell this for a profit. We [...]"

Read more: <http://robot6.comicbookresources.com/2014/09/comics-a-m-why-two-dealers-paid-3-2m-for-action-comics-1/>