

Ben Costa's work first caught my attention with the Xeric Award-winning webcomic Shi Long Pang, about a heavy-set, wandering Shaolin monk named Pang. The artwork had a simple elegance, with Pang's face drawn as a round dumpling-like thing with beady eyes and a mouth. The linework imitates the wispy brushstrokes you'd find in old Chinese [...]

Read more: <http://robot6.comicbookresources.com/2014/08/costas-new-direction-for-rickety-stitch-and-the-gelatinous-goo/>