

More than three decades after Marvel and DC Comics initially registered their joint trademark for "super hero," a small-press publisher is disputing their claims to the mark. In an interview with Crisp Comics, Ray Felix of Cup O' Java Studio Comix recounts receiving a cease-and-desist letter in September 2010 after he registered a trademark for [...]

Read more: <http://robot6.comicbookresources.com/2013/02/creator-tangles-with-dc-and-marvel-over-super-hero-trademark/>