

As you read this, Julie and I are safely ensconced in rustic Oak Harbor. Rather than try and figure out any kind of family Thanksgiving, we fled to Whidbey Island for a four-and-a-half day holiday of loafing around and bookscouting and goofing off. Don't tell my relatives. Eventually, I'm sure, the highlights of our trip [...]

Read more: <http://goodcomics.comicbookresources.com/2010/11/26/cross-hatched-thanksgiving/>