

In today's installment of "What's New in the New 52," DC Comics Editor-in-Chief Bob Harras introduces readers to Cheshire, teased as a character from Jason Todd's past who'll soon appear in Red Hood and the Outlaws "to shed a little bit more light" on the character's origins. However, unveiling of the character design created a [...]

Read more: <http://robot6.comicbookresources.com/2013/05/dc-comics-reintroduces-cheshire-again/>