

We have this annual holiday ritual in our household. Because we are employed by organizations that work with juveniles— I teach in public school, Julie's a counselor at a youth rehab— my wife and I are constantly being exposed to whatever illnesses our teenaged petri dishes are carrying around. I sometimes think it'd be healthier [...]

Read more: <http://goodcomics.comicbookresources.com/2013/12/21/december-cross-hatchings-in-the-stacks/>