

Bitstrips, the Toronto-based startup behind those inescapable do-it-yourself avatars and comic strips on Facebook, has secured $3 million in funding from Hong Kong venture capital firm Horizons Ventures. The news was announced this morning, appropriately enough, with a comic strip. According to Mashable, the money will be used to further develop its popular app, and [...]

Read more: <http://robot6.comicbookresources.com/2013/12/fast-growing-bitstrips-gets-3-million-injection/>