

Thirty years ago, as part of the first ship week in December 1984, the debut issue of Crisis on Infinite Earths arrived in comics shops. Cover-dated April 1985, and scheduled to appear on newsstands during the first week of January, it was the flagship title of DC Comics' year-long 50th-anniversary celebration. The two-year Who's Who [...]

Read more: <http://robot6.comicbookresources.com/2014/12/grumpy-old-fan-crisis-at-30-part-1/>