

“Ed [Brubaker] got too busy, so Ed had to leave. Sales were what they were — it was Iron Fist. It was critically acclaimed, and not losing money was enough. But David Aja was going to stop because of the schedule and other work, and Ed was going to stop because of his schedule, and [...]

Read more: <http://robot6.comicbookresources.com/2014/02/i-basically-didnt-want-to-be-the-mike-love-of-iron-fist/>