

Interviews with Love and Rockets co-creator Gilbert Hernandez are increasingly rare treasures. It seems the man behind the decades-spanning Palomar/Luba/Fritz saga — a story at first centered on the people of a remote Latin American village, then on one of its more irascible and memorable leading ladies, then on her irresistible but troubled sister — [...]

Read more: <http://robot6.comicbookresources.com/2011/04/i-want-to-break-free-gilbert-hernandez-on-leaving-palomar-for-the-wild-frontier/>