

After Robert Sage won a $13 million jackpot in the Florida lottery in 2001, he said he planned to build a two-story house with a tennis court and enough room to store his 300 superhero statues and 14,000 comic books. But on Tuesday, he found himself in a Jacksonville hotel, looking for bidders to buy [...]

Read more: <http://robot6.comicbookresources.com/2014/10/irs-tries-to-auction-lotto-winners-comics-walks-away-empty-handed/>