

Although the Batman of Japan's Chiba Prefecture — or, as he prefers, “Chibatman” — drew international attention just last week, it turns out he's been riding around east of Tokyo on his custom Batpod since 2011. Reuters and BBC News caught up to the 41-year-old man, a welder by day whose identity remains secret. However, [...]

Read more: <http://robot6.comicbookresources.com/2014/09/japans-chibatman-revealed-but-not-unmasked/>