

Madefire and deviantART have formed a partnership that will give members of that online community unlimited access to the company's browser-based publishing platform. That means creators will be able to make their own motion comics using Madefire's tools, and then distribute them through deviantART and the Madefire's app. DeviantART also has a new Motion Books [...]

Read more: <http://robot6.comicbookresources.com/2013/04/madefire-brings-motion-books-to-deviantart-community/>