

News bulletin: The Walking Dead is a friggin' huge deal. I'm not sure how to measure it, but at least culturally I think the zombie-survival tale by Robert Kirkman, Tony Moore and Charlie Adlard is on track to become the biggest deal to come from indie/creator-owned comics since Kevin Eastman and Peter Laird's Teenage Mutant [...]

Read more: <http://robot6.comicbookresources.com/2012/10/marketing-comics-to-fans-of-comics-adaptations/>