

All October long I will be exploring the context behind (using reader danjack's term) "meta-messages." A meta-message is where a comic book creator comments on/references the work of another comic book/comic book creator in their comic. Each time around, I'll give you the context behind one such "meta-message." Here is an archive of the past [...]

Read more: <http://goodcomics.comicbookresources.com/2011/10/06/meta-messages-mike-grell-tells-us-not-to-believe-everything-we-read/>