

Even as Batman, The Joker and other costumed characters fight for their place in Times Square, a certain willy silly nilly old bear has found himself banned from a playground in Poland. According to the Croatian Times, Winnie-the-Pooh's troubles began not with a honeypot but rather when officials in the small town of Tuszyn (87 [...])

Read more: <http://robot6.comicbookresources.com/2014/11/polish-town-rejects-half-naked-pooh-as-playground-mascot/>