

Swear to God, my first thought was, "No way. A week after Tony DeZuniga? This is so not fair." But fairness doesn't enter into it, I guess. We've lost another great one, just a week later. Ernie Chan has passed away at the age of seventy-one. I don't really have any personal reminiscences about Mr. [...]

Read more: <http://goodcomics.comicbookresources.com/2012/05/17/r-i-p-ernie-chan/>