

You may recall that a little over a month ago, cartoonist Roger Langridge asked for help in finding some artwork that had gone missing after an exhibition in Treviso, Italy, in September. The work was supposed to be shipped to another exhibitor, but it seemed to have never arrived. "I'm keen not to accuse anybody [...]"

Read more: <http://robot6.comicbookresources.com/2013/06/roger-langridges-missing-artwork-has-been-found/>