

Organizers of Stumptown Comics Fest have announced they will end the 10-year-old show as a standalone event and will instead move its panel programming and convention awards to Rose City Comic Con, which debuted last year. Stumptown Comics Inc., which achieved nonprofit status earlier this year, now plans to focus “more on its educational goals.” “From [...]

Read more: <http://robot6.comicbookresources.com/2013/12/stumptown-merges-programming-awards-with-rose-city/>