

You would think being the editor of a newspaper's comics page, in which all the content is provided by the syndicates, would be the world's easiest job, but in fact, it's well known to be a headache, especially when the editors try to change something. T his recent article from the Capitol Journal, titled "There's [...]

Read more: <http://robot6.comicbookresources.com/2013/05/tending-to-delicate-sensibilities-on-the-funny-pages/>