

It was not the sufferings of the maimed and the dead that pained him, but the very absence of that pain; he could not forget those terrible scenes, the blood and mud, the bundles of squirming flesh, but, remembering, he felt nothing, nothing, and this emptiness horrified him. (John Banville, from Doctor Copernicus) Astro City [...]

Read more: <http://goodcomics.comicbookresources.com/2013/12/14/what-i-bought-11-december-2013/>