

For all intents and purposes, NYCC is now my big hometown show. I still didn't go, despite the fact that between getting a press pass and having a monthly Long Island Rail Road ticket, it would have cost me basically nothing to do so, and despite the fact that nearly all of my friends were [...]

Read more: <http://robot6.comicbookresources.com/2010/10/why-i-didnt-go-to-the-new-york-comic-con/>