

Over the holidays, writer Peter David announced on his blog that he had suffered a stroke. On New Year's Eve, his wife Kathleen explained more, and another update followed Tuesday. She's planning to let people know of David's recovery on a daily basis. Our thoughts are definitely with him and his family and friends. As [...]

Read more: <http://robot6.comicbookresources.com/2013/01/will-the-comics-industry-resolve-to-take-care-of-its-own/>