

Yesterday we saw the rumor that Adam Harris was supposedly being looked at to fill the role of Lex Luthor in Zack Snyder's upcoming movie 'Superman: Man of Steel', and fans seemed to have mixed reactions, some didn't buy it, some hated the idea, and others seemed to love it. Well now we just might have some confirmation that he is indeed being looked at for the role. The folks over at YouBentMyWookie have contacted Harris' management team and they have confirmed that he is definitely being considered and has already gone through two stages of auditioning. "After speaking with representatives for Adam Harris, we can now report the status of Adam Harris and "Superman: The Man Of Steel." After speaking with sources within his management team, we can tell you that Adam M. Harris has gone through not just one, but two levels of auditions for Zack Snyder's "Superman: The Man of Steel." This

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/Dustin03Comics/news/?a=34687&t=Adam_Harris_IS_In_The_Running_For_Lex_Luthor