Have you ever wanted your own action figure? What young comic book fan hasn't? So here's your old pal BillyBlack, infrequent contributor and constant irritant, to make some of your dreams come true... and you don't even need to have a terminal illness! That's what you call a bonus, kids. This time around we have some reboots, a few obscure characters that will test the most knowledgeable CBM members, and a whole lot of SOAL. Do you want to be in the next series? Do you have what it takes? Does anyone even give a shit anymore? Leave a comment you know where (no, SirPrize, not there) and let me know what you think.
