

In my never-ending search to find unique and different pieces of comic book related art, I happened upon this Star Trek poster, called "Trexels." The artist, John Martz, is based out of Toronto, Canada, is a commercial artist and designer and is also the creator of the independent comics project Heaven All Day. Only 25 copies of this print were available at this year's MoCCA Festival, with the rest being available for purchase via his website and later this year at Comic-Con International in San Diego, California and the Toronto Comics Art Festival.

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/geekboymovienews/news/?a=35314&t=Can_You_Name_235_Star_Trek_Charactersin_8-Bit