

A user on the SuperHeroHype Forums has seemingly discovered some information about what the contents of the trailer pack with Transformers: Dark of the Moon will and will not contain. While it looks likely that we'll be seeing new trailers for Captain America: The First Avenger and Mission Impossible: Ghost Protocol, the rumoured 3D teaser for The Amazing Spider-Man is looking slightly less likely. -Captain America (new trailer). This is embargoed until this weekend. It will probably start turning up on other actioners this coming weekend before TF3 releases, but it can be considered highly likely to appear in front of Transformers shows. -Mission Impossible 4. I don't know the details yet. We're expecting a short teaser, but Paramount will be supplying it with the Transformers feature and have insisted that it be played. -The Amazing Spider-Man trailer that was getting prepared in time for Dark of the Moon will not be ready. Word

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/joshw24/news/?a=39960&t=iCaptain_America_Trailer_Embargoed_Until_Weekend_No_Teaser_For_Spider-Man_After_All