

Many thanks to Marvel's "The Next Big Thing" live blog for the following quotes, information and art. You can head on over there to read the ongoing report in its entirety, but here are some of the best excerpts. "With Dan Slott nailing all the Peter Parker soap opera stuff in Amazing Spider-Man, we wanted to do a book about Spider-Man as a super hero, out there in the Marvel Universe with the Avengers. This is the big super action movie of Spider-Man every month, with Joe Mad on art." The first arc will see Spider-Man and the Red Hulk headed deep underground to deal with the Mole Man and encountering a brand new threat. The genesis of the book came from when Zeb was working on Amazing Spider-Man and kicked around the idea of bringing Marvel Team-Up back. Steve didn't go for it because he never liked those stories that didn't feel important to

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/joshw24/news/?a=39355&t=COMICS_Zeb_Wells_And_Joe_Madureira_To_Helm_New_Team-Up_Series_Avenging_Spider-Man