

As we already know, Steve Rogers wakes up after being frozen leaving behind everyone he knew in his previous life back in the '40s. But fans of the comic will know that he hooks up with his sweetheart from the '40s Niece Sharon in modern times. Speaking to SFX Hayley Atwell, who plays Cap's love interest Peggy Carter is asked about the possibility of her reprising her role, or playing that Niece in future Marvel movies.. SFX: Would you like to see Sharon in The Avengers or a Captain America sequel and would you like to play her? Atwell: Oh yeah, I think it's essential. Towards the end of filming I was like "Joe can Peggy have some blue serum? can she walk off at the end of the film and just pocket it? It would take you like half a day to shoot..or let's have Peggy come back and be really evil

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/rorschachsrants/news/?a=40665&t=Could_We_See_Hayley_Atwell_As_SHARON_Carter_Post_iCaptain_America_TFAi