I think its pretty widely known in fan circles that Boreanaz(Buffy The Vampire Slayer, Angel, Bones) auditioned to play The Man Of Steel Back in 2005. Obviously, he didn't get it! Brandon Routh played the big blue boy scout. But one can't help but wonder if he was impressive nonetheless, especially since it looks like he's looking for another chance at the role. According to Moviehole Boreanaz is keen to get another audition, this time of course its Zack Snyder at the helm of a reboot. Even if he gets a look in, I'm pretty sure his chances are slim since we already know that WB and Snyder are looking for a relative unknown, and at 40 doesn't fit into the age bracket that they are apparently sticking to. But still, if he impresses enough who knows? What would you think about Boreanaz as Superman?
