

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/MarvelFreshman/news/?a=27643&t=FAN_PROMO_Geoff_Ward_Unknown_Actor_wants_as_shot_at_iSupermani

Images have been floating around consisting of a relatively unknown actor, Geoff Ward supposedly screen-testing for Zack Snyder's Superman reboot. Superman Homepage & CBM are among other sites who have received these images, that you can check out below. The anonymous source says: "Director Zack Snyder, has nearly chosen his next Superman. Actor Geoff Ward was auditioned and called back three times. Yesterday he was given the physical screen test on a green screen with new suit and all. I have iphone pics." Geoff Ward has acquired minor roles in film titles such as Dark Queen, My Sexiest Year, and most recently The Forgotten Jewel. And while it's strongly believed that these images are from Ward himself, expressing a bit of self-promotion, what do you think?