

Comingsoon sat down with actor Taylor Kitsch recently in order to discuss his upcoming film The Bang Bang Club. They did however, manage to slide John Carter of Mars in to the conversation. The following excerpts begin at the the 9:45 mark in the video. The 10:40 mark is worth watching to see his reaction when he realises he is giving too much away. On what it's like playing John Carter... "Love it man! I love the challenge. Stanton has wrote something very special and as an actor, to be "that guy" and to take the helm, and work it and be collaborative with him through his process has been a dream. And I'll get his coffee tomorrow. Really man, this guy is just a special cat. We work and coincide very well together and hopefully there will be many more films to shoot with him." "I don't know the arch of John Carter.

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/GulfCoastAvengers/news/?a=35710&t=Good_Stuff_From_Taylor_Kitsch_On_iJohn_Carter_of_Marsi