

There was a lot of harsh criticism aimed at Fox after the early release of a clearly photoshopped image of the actors from X-Men: First Class was leaked online, and even more so when they released two rather bizarre looking posters. So, what does the brand new Charles Xavier make of this? Check out his hilarious response below courtesy of MTV Splash Page! Movie Trailers - Movies Blog "I have no idea," McAvoy told MTV News when asked what exactly is going on in the somewhat strange posters. "I really had to sit on Patrick Stewart's lap [for that image]. The only thing they photoshopped was to make him all dark." X-Men: First Class is set to be released on June 3, later this year!

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/joshw24/news/?a=35199&t=James McAvoy Jokingly Shares His Thoughts On X-Men First Class Posters