

I have to say, I was very surprised that Locke & Key wasn't picked up by Fox considering the talent involved. I really want to take a look at that pilot and see for myself what reasons there may have been behind the network's decision to cancel the show. Well now Comic Con attendees will get that chance, and who knows, if there is a strong enough positive reaction, could it get the network chiefs to reconsider? Deadline report.. A Locke & Key session will be held on July 22 at 10:30 AM and will include a screening of the pilot, followed by a panel discussion featuring Hill, Rodriguez, the pilot's writer/executive producer Josh Friedman and executive producers Alex Kurtzman and Roberto Orci. Behind the event is the publisher of the Locke & Key comic, IDW Publishing. IDW asked the pilot's producer, 20th Century Fox TV, for permission, and with the studio's

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/rorschachsrants/news/?a=40024&t=iLocke_Key_Pilot_To_Screen_At_Comic_Con