

Here are some brand new set photos, taken from the designs of H.R Giger, for Ridley Scott's upcoming Prometheus! Looking at the images, the design of the environment kinda reminds you of the tunnel, that was constructed out of an Aliens mosaic in the first film! "Visionary filmmaker Ridley Scott returns to the genre he helped define, creating an original science fiction epic set in the most dangerous corners of the universe. The film takes a team of scientists and explorers on a thrilling journey that will test their physical and mental limits and strand them on a distant world, where they will discover the answers to our most profound questions and to life's ultimate mystery." Below is an image from Ridley Scott's Alien for comparison. Prometheus is scheduled to hit cinemas June 8th, 2012.
