This courtesy of Occlumencia: On how big a role Ginny will play in the second part: I think, actually, the character is involved more. She struggles with Bellatrix and such. Can't say too much, but the role of Ginny is really great, besides the epilogue - not sure if you know, but we had to remake it in December! On whether there's time for romance between Harry and Ginny during the war: Yes, there is a kiss. Can't say when that moment will be... but yes, there is a kiss. Also, they do have some other significant moments which I think are cool. We (Dad and I) did a good job. On whether she has ever had a crush on Daniel Radcliffe: No! Everyone asks that. I've known [the cast] for so many years that I've lost count... We treat each other as friends and always will. And it would be too embarrassing. Some people say, "Bonnie,
