

Talking to Alibi, the legendary comic book creator briefly shared his thoughts on the rise of comic book movies, as well as the current and future adaptations currently being made by Marvel Studios. Below are a few of the most interesting excerpts from the interview, but to hear more about Stan's other projects and much more, click the link below to head on over to the site. On Seeing Comic Books And Their Movies Become So Popular: I always knew they were—but never dreamed there'd be a time when the whole world realized it, too! On THOR: It was indescribably wonderful. Any description I could give you would fall far short of the true emotion! On A Cameo In The Avengers And Joss Whedon: I hope so. It's up to the director, but I heard he's considering it. I met Joss years ago when he was nice enough to make a short speech when I received an award.
