

At the age of twelve, Abouet and her brother moved to France with their great uncle. She currently resides in Romainville, a suburb just outside of Paris, with her husband, illustrator Clément Oubrerie (who illustrates her graphic concepts), and their young son. She worked as a legal assistant in Paris while she wrote her first graphic novel, Aya. Before writing Aya, Abouet tried to write novels for young people, but she gave up in frustration with what she perceived to be the constraints put on the genre by the publishers. She has also quit her job as a legal assistant to concentrate on writing full time, including her two follow up graphic novels to Aya (Aya of Yop City and Aya: The Secrets Come Out). Aya is directed by Marguerite Abouet and Clément Oubrerie. LEEE777 - The animated film is released this year and I for one have not heard of it, could

Read more: <http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/SuperGamer/news/?a=36256&t=The First Official Pic of The Comic Book Adaptation |Aya|>