We have read the trailer descriptions, heard a few possible spoilers. But this Friday those that head out to catch Seth Rogen and Jay Chou kick ass in Michel Gondry's Green Hornet will get a very first look at the mutants from Mathew Vaughan's new X movie in action.. The long-awaited trailer for "First Class" will get a hero's welcome this Friday, appearing before screenings of "The Green Hornet." The info comes courtesy of magazine Brand X. About time I'm sure you will all agree! Keep an eye on CBM leading up to Friday for more info on X-Men First Class and possible even an early first look at that trailer;) UPDATE: Despite this story being written by Geoff Boucher(La Times'Hero Complex blog), there are now reports that Fox haven't issued an official release date. It's very unlike Boucher to publish false info. Guess we shall have to wait and see!
